READING AND SPEAKING

How well do you know your world?

1 Do you know the answers to these questions?

- What are the Earth's oldest living things?
- What man-made things on Earth can be seen from space?
- What is the most terrible natural disaster to have hit the Earth?
- Why do women live longer than men?
- Why isn't there a row 13 on aeroplanes?
- Why do they drive on the left in Britain and on the right in other countries?
- How many new words enter the English language every year?

2 Put one of these lines before each question in exercise 1. What is true for you?

I think I know what/why ... I'm not sure ...
 I think ... I have no idea ...
 I don't know ... I wonder ...

I think I know why women live longer than men. It's because ...

I have no idea what the Earth's oldest living things are.

Discuss your ideas as a class.
 Which question interests you the most?
 Read the answers to the questions on pages 90 and 91. How much did you already know?

- 3 Here are the last lines of the seven answers. Which answer do they go with?
- The country with the highest life expectancy is Japan – 84 years for women and 77 for men.
 - If they do, one will die within a year.
 - It is likely that this explosion wiped out all the dinosaurs.
 - It's interesting to note that Samuel Johnson spent 8 years writing the first English dictionary, published in 1755.
 - You can also see fires burning in the tropical rainforest.
 - It has also endured climatic catastrophes, and nuclear bomb testing – and still it lives on!
 - However, most of them are former British Colonies.

4 Here are seven questions, one for each text. What do the underlined words refer to?

- Where is the oldest one in the world?
- Why is this difficult to see from space?
- How many of them does it accept every year?
- How did they become extinct?
- Why don't most countries do this like the British?
- Do they have a thirteenth floor?
- Why are they more likely to have accidents?

Answer questions 1–7.

5 These numbers are from the texts. What do they refer to?

4,600	15	200	65 million
14	six	4,000	193

Producing a class poster

6 What else would you like to know about the world? Work in groups and write some questions. Think of:

- places (countries, cities, buildings)
- people (customs, languages, superstitions, famous people)
- things (machines, gadgets, transportation, etc.)
- plants and animals

Check round the class to see if anyone can answer your questions

7 Choose two questions you wrote in exercise 6 and research the answers. You could use the Internet or an encyclopedia.

Make them into a poster for your classroom.

How well

1 What are the Earth's oldest living things?

A The White Mountains of California are home to our oldest living things – trees! The oldest tree in the world, Methuselah, has roots that go back over 4,600 years. This makes it older even than the Great Pyramids of Giza in Egypt. The 26-foot bristlecone pine tree is the oldest of many that have outlived civilization after civilization.

2 What man-made things on Earth can be seen from space?

A 'When humans first flew in space, they were amazed to discover that the only man-made object visible from orbit was the Great Wall of China.' Although this is a nice idea, it's not true. The Great Wall is mostly grey stone in a grey landscape and, in fact, is very difficult to see even from a plane flying at a mere 15 kilometres above. What can be seen when orbiting the Earth (from about 200 kilometres up) are the lights of the world's large metropolitan areas.

3 What is the most terrible natural disaster to have hit the Earth?

A Earthquakes, volcanic eruptions, and hurricanes are responsible for the deaths of thousands of people. One of the most violent earthquakes ever recorded was in Ecuador in 1906. It was the equivalent of 100 million H-bombs. It was nothing compared to a volcanic eruption in Indonesia in 1815. This was the equivalent of 100 million H-bombs. But, even these are nothing compared to many tropical hurricanes. They regularly have the energy of 100,000 H-bombs.

However, there is one natural disaster that beats all of them – a meteor that hit the Earth 65 million years ago and caused an explosion the equivalent of 100 million H-bombs.

you know your world?

You ask ... we answer!

4Q Why do women live longer than men?

A Women generally live about six years longer than men. Evidence suggests that boys are the weaker sex at birth, which means that more die in infancy. Men also have a greater risk of heart disease than women, and they have heart attacks earlier in life. Men smoke more than women, and their behaviour is generally more aggressive, particularly when driving, so they are more likely to die in accidents. Also, men are more often in dangerous occupations, such as construction work.

Historically, women died in childbirth and men in wars. So unmarried women and philosophers often lived to great ages. Now childbearing is less risky and there are fewer wars. ☐

6Q Why do they drive on the left in Britain and on the right in other countries?

A The reason for this goes back to the days when people travelled by horse. Most people are right handed, and thus the left is the natural side to ride on if you are on horseback and you need your right hand to hold a sword in case of trouble. So why didn't the rest of the world do the same? Because of Napoleon Bonaparte. He insisted that his armies marched on the right, and as he marched through Europe, he imposed this rule wherever he went. In the twentieth century Adolf Hitler did the same. Signs reading 'Rechts fahren' were put up whenever he took over a country.

The question suggests that only the British drive on the left, but in fact, out of 193 countries in the world, there are about 50 that drive on the left, including Japan. ☐

5Q Why isn't there a row 13 on aeroplanes?

A In many countries, the number 13 is considered to be very unlucky. In France, there is never a house with the number 13. In the United States, modern high-rise buildings label the floor that follows 12 as 14.

Where did this fear of a number come from? The idea goes back at least to Norse mythology in ancient times. There was a banquet with 12 guests. Loki, who was evil, decided to join them without being invited. In the fight that followed, Balder, the son of Odin, was killed.

This story is probably the origin of the idea that 13 people shouldn't sit at the table to eat. ☐

7Q How many words enter the English language every year?

A Unfortunately no list is kept. In France there is the Académie française which approves new words, but in England there are only dictionaries. The most authoritative of these is the Oxford English Dictionary (OED), but this does not make rules about the language. It simply records the development of English worldwide. It accepts about 4,000 new words (or new uses) every year. The OED has readers in all English-speaking parts of the world, who record repeated uses of new words, including numerous technical terms. Traditionally, a word had to be used five times, in five different places, over five years before it could go into the dictionary. However, now in the 21st century, with new technology, new words and uses are included much more quickly. For example something like 'text messaging' got in sooner because it became so widely used so quickly. ☐

EVERYDAY ENGLISH

Informal English

1 When we speak, we use a lot of informal language, depending on who we're speaking to.

In the conversations, choose the correct expression.

- A What do you say we break for lunch?
B ☐ Great idea. | We can grab a sandwich at the snack bar.
☐ I get it.
- A ☐ How are you doing?
☐ What are you up to?
B Nothing much. Just sitting around watching TV.
A You're such a couch potato.
B ☐ Hey, take a break! | I work hard all week. I like to relax at weekends.
☐ Hey, give me a break!
- A Quick! Give me your homework so I can copy it.
B ☐ Look out! | Do your own homework!
☐ No way!
- A Did you mend the TV?
B ☐ Kind of. | Channel 4's OK, but we still can't get Sky TV.
☐ All right.
A Anything good on tonight?
B ☐ Dunno. | Look in the paper.
☐ What's up?
- A What do you call that stuff you use to clean between your teeth?
B What do you mean?
A ☐ You see! | It's like string. White.
☐ You know!
B ☐ Wow! | You mean dental floss.
☐ Oh!
A Yeah. That's it!

T 11.11 Listen and check. Practise the conversations with a partner.

2 Underline the examples of informal language. How do we say them more formally? Be careful if you try to use them!

WORDS THAT JOIN IDEAS

- Join the sentences in different ways using the words in brackets.
 - George was rich. He wasn't a happy man. (but / although / however)

A She isn't going to give it all away, is she?

B As a matter of fact she is.

A Wow. Not many people would do that, would they?

B Well, I certainly wouldn't.
- A I think we're lost. Let's look at the map.

B Uh-oh.

A What do you mean, 'Uh-oh'? You didn't forget to bring the map, did you?

B Sorry.

A How are we going to get back to the campsite without a map?

B Well, we could ask a police officer, couldn't we?

A There aren't many police officers on this mountain!

T 11.8 The forgetful generation

P = Presenter

- P Hi, and welcome to What's your problem?
- P How's your day been so far? Have you done all the things you planned? Kept all your appointments? Oh – and did you remember to send your mother a birthday card? If so, good for you! If not – well, you're not alone. Many of us in the busy twenty-first century are finding it more and more difficult to remember everything. Once upon a time we just blamed getting older for our absent-mindedness, but now experts are blaming our modern lifestyle. They say that we have become 'the forgetful generation' and that day after day we overload our memories.

T 11.9

Ellen

Last year I finished university and I got a job in the same town, Canterbury. And one day, for some reason, rather than go to work for 9 o'clock, I got the bus and went to the university for an 11 o'clock lecture. I was sitting there, in the lecture room, and I thought to myself, 'Why don't I know anybody?' Then suddenly I remembered that I'd finished university and that I was two hours late for work!

Josh

I'm studying law in London now, and, erm, at the end of last term I packed my suitcase as usual and went to King's Cross station to catch the train home. I was sitting reading on the train, revising for my exams, and the inspector came to check my ticket. He looked at it and said, 'Thank you, sir. We'll be in Newcastle in about an hour.' Suddenly I thought, 'Newcastle?! I don't want to go to Newcastle. My parents live in Plymouth!' You see, when I was a child I lived with my parents in Newcastle, but we moved to Plymouth when I was ten. I couldn't believe it. How could I have been so stupid?

Fiona

Some time ago I got dressed, ready to go to work. I put on my smart black suit. I'd been working at home the night before – preparing for a very important meeting the next day, and I remembered to put all the right papers into my briefcase. I left home and walked down to the bus stop. Just before I got on the bus, I looked down, and I was still wearing my fluffy, pink bedroom slippers!

T 11.10 P = Presenter, A = Alan

P Stories of forgetfulness like these are familiar to many of us, and experts say that such cases as Ellen's, Josh's, and Fiona's show the loss of memory is not just related to age, but can be caused by our way of life. Alan Buchan is a Professor of Psychology and he explains why.

A One of the problems, these days, is that many companies have far fewer employees. This means that one person often does several jobs. Jobs that before were done by many people are now done by a few. If you have five things to do at once, you become stressed and forgetful. I think many people in work situations, at a meeting or something, have the experience where they start a sentence and halfway through it, they can't remember what they're talking about, and they can't finish the sentence.

P That's happened to me.

A It's a terrible feeling – you think you're going to be insane. I remember one patient who was so distressed because at three meetings in one week, she found herself saying, mid-sentence, 'I'm sorry, I can't remember what I'm talking about.' This was a patient in a new job, which involved a lot of travelling. She also had a home and family to take care of and she'd recently moved. She had so many things to think about that her brain couldn't cope. It shut down.

P I can see the problem, but what's the solution? How did you help that patient?

A Well, part of the solution is recognizing the problem. Once we'd talked to this patient about her stressful lifestyle, she realized that she wasn't going crazy and she felt more relaxed and was able to help herself. But do you know one of the best ways to remember things, even in these days of personal and handheld computers?

P What's that?

A It's a notebook, or just a piece of paper! At the beginning of every day write yourself a list of things you have to do – and it gives you a really good feeling when you cross things off the list as you do them!

P Well, there you have it! Thank you very much Professor ... uh ... um ... ? Oh – Professor Alan Buchan!

T 11.11

- 1 A What do you say we break for lunch?
B Great idea. We can grab a sandwich at the snack bar.
- 2 A What are you up to?
B Nothing much. Just sitting around watching TV.
A You're such a couch potato!
B Hey, give me a break! I work hard all week. I like to relax at weekends.
- 3 A Quick! Give me your homework so I can copy it.
B No way! Do your own homework!
- 4 A Did you mend the TV?
B Kind of. Channel 4's OK, but we still can't get Sky TV.
A Anything good on tonight?
B Dunno. Look in the paper.
- 5 A What do you call that stuff you use to clean between your teeth?
B What do you mean?
A You know! It's like string. White.
B Oh! You mean dental floss.
A Yeah. That's it!

Unit 12

T 12.1 The marriage proposal

J = John, M = Moira

- J Moira! Hello there! How are you?
M John! I'm just fine, thanks.
J It's really great to see you again. We haven't seen each other since Paris.
M Oh, John! I loved every minute in Paris. I'll never forget it as long as I live. Do you plan to go again?
J Moira, -er first, there's something I want to ask you, something I have to ask you. Moira, I love you so much. Will you marry me and come to Paris with me on honeymoon?
M Oh, John! Yes, I will. I love you, too.

T 12.2 The wedding

A = Adam, B = Beatrice

- 1 A How do you know John and Moira?
B I went to the same school as Moira.

- 2 A Are you married?
B Yes, I am. That's my husband over there.
- 3 A Where did you meet your husband?
B Actually, I met him at a wedding.
- 4 A Have you travelled far to get here?
B Yes, we have. We flew in from Dublin yesterday.
- 5 A Do you live in Dublin?
B Yes, we do.
- 6 A So, where are you staying?
B We're staying at the Four Seasons Hotel.
- 7 A So am I. Can we all meet there later for a coffee?
B Sure. I'll introduce you to my husband.

T 12.3 B = Beatrice, R = Ron

- B I just met this really nice guy called Adam.
R Oh, yeah?
B He was very friendly. Do you know what he said? First, he asked me how I knew John and Moira. I told him that I had gone to the same school as Moira. Then he asked if I was married. Of course I said that I was!
R He asked you that?
B ... and next he asked where we'd met and I told him that we'd actually met at a wedding.
R You told him that?
B Sure. Then he wanted to know how long we had been here, and I said we had just got here yesterday and that we had flown in from Dublin. He asked if we lived in Dublin, so I told him that we did.
R What else did this guy want to know?
B Well, he asked where we were staying and it turns out that he's staying at the Four Seasons, too. Then he asked if we could all meet there later for a coffee, and I said we could and that I would introduce him to you.
R I'm not sure I want to meet this guy.

T 12.4 R = Ron, B = Beatrice

- 1 R Adam lives in Birmingham.
B He told me he lived in Cambridge!
- 2 R He doesn't like his new job.
B He told me he loved it!
- 3 R He's moving to Manchester.
B Hang on! He told me he was moving to Australia!
- 4 R He went to Brighton on his last holiday.
B Strange. He told me he'd been to Florida!
- 5 R He'll be forty next week.
B Really? He told me he'd be thirty!
- 6 R He's been married three times.
B But he told me he'd never been married!
R You see! I told you he was a liar!

T 12.5

- 1 The salesman told me to sign on the dotted line.
- 2 Maria asked Mark to translate a sentence for her.
- 3 Mary reminded her son to send Aunt Nora a birthday card.
- 4 Jane begged Sally to help her with her maths homework.
- 5 John invited his boss to his wedding.
- 6 Waleed refused to go to bed.
- 7 Ben advised Tim to talk to his solicitor.
- 8 The teacher ordered Joanna to take the chewing gum out of her mouth.

T 12.6

Kathleen Brady

OK. We argue sometimes but not too often. Usually we just sit quietly and watch the evenings. But sometimes ... sometimes about money. We don't have much money. I'm a bit upset when Kenny spends the money on computer games. He promised to give them, but he hasn't stopped. It's been a while since he's lost his job. OK, we were about to throw a chair at Mr West. He was out of the window. And I'm not sure I woke the baby. We won't do it again. We'll babysit for Mr and Mrs West anytime if they want to go out.

T 12.7

Ann West

Every night it's the same thing. They wake me up at the time. And we can hear every word. During the day it's not so bad because both of them are out. But in the evening they start arguing about which TV channel to watch. Then he slams the door and goes outside his front door. 'Open the door, door.' But she wouldn't open it. He was in the window instead and threw a plant at me. Tonight they threw a chair at my head. They're so selfish. They don't care about baby one bit.

T 12.8 See p99

T 12.9 See p99

T 12.10 A birth

Well, my sister was expecting her first child. She was living on a Scottish island, Mull, just off the north-west coast of Scotland, and, er, the plan was that the time came to give birth, she would go to hospital on the mainland. That's the course, er ... That was the plan, er ... babies don't always keep to plans. This baby started coming early so we had to be rushed off the island by lifeline ferry. Erm ... but even the lifeline ferry in time to actually get her to the mainland she ended up giving birth on the lifeline. Er, you can imagine it's quite a small boat to give birth in. She said it was kind of like the aisle of an aeroplane or something. About all the space that you've got in a lifeline crew were marvellous. At the time she had a beautiful baby girl and the lifeline crew were marvellous. There were five crew members, and, er, like in the when they know there's some trouble there was a doctor and her husband. And of course her husband was a doctor. - so the boat was quite crowded. She was in care - she was just pleased that she gave birth and that she managed to get to the crew, put a plaque up with the date and the birthdate of the baby. It will be remembered! Also, the lifeline crew were marvellous. My sister to name the baby after the lifeline. Lifelines always have a name. One called Edith Mora. And so they were to call the baby Edith, but she's not.

UNIT 11

Question words

Look at the questions. Notice that What, Which, and Whose can combine with a noun and How can combine with an adjective or an adverb.

- What kind of music do you like?
- What size shoe do you wear?
- What colour are your eyes?
- Which pen do you want?
- Which way is it to the station?
- Whose book is this?
- How much do you weigh?
- How many brothers and sisters do you have?
- How many times have you been on a plane?
- How much homework do you get every night?
- How tall are you?
- How often do you go to the dentist?
- How long does it take you to get to school?

11.1 Indirect questions

- Indirect questions have the same word order as the positive and there is no do/does/did.

Tom lives in California.

Do you know where Tom lives?

NOT ~~Do you know where does Tom live?~~

- We often make direct questions into indirect questions to make them sound 'softer' or more polite.

Direct question

What time do the banks close?

Indirect question

Could you tell me

Do you know

Do you happen to know

Have you any idea

Do you remember

Would you mind telling me

what time the banks close?

If there is no question word, use if or whether.

I don't know if I'm coming or not.

I wonder whether it's going to rain.

Here are some more expressions that introduce indirect questions:

I don't know

I wonder

I can't remember

I've no idea

I'd like to know

I'm not sure

how long the journey takes.

11.2 Question tags

Form

- Question tags are very common in spoken English. The most common patterns are:

positive sentence – negative tag

You're Jenny, aren't you?

or negative sentence – positive tag

It isn't a very nice day, is it?

- We repeat the auxiliary verb in the tag. If there is no auxiliary, use do/does/did.

You haven't been here before, have you?

You can speak French, can't you?

We should take the children out, shouldn't we?

Banks close at four, don't they?

She eats meat, doesn't she?

You went to bed late, didn't you?

Note

For negative question tags with I'm ..., use aren't.

I'm late, aren't I? NOT I'm late, am't I?

But,

I'm not late, am I? NOT I'm not late, aren't I?

- Notice the meaning of Yes and No in answer to question tags.

'You're coming, aren't you?' 'Yes.' (= I am coming.)

'No.' (= I'm not coming.)

Use

We use question tags to keep a conversation going by involving listeners and inviting them to participate.

The meaning of a question tag depends on how you say it.

A question tag with rising intonation is like a real question – it is asking for confirmation. It means 'I'm not sure, so I'm checking'. The speaker thinks he/she knows the answer, but isn't absolutely certain.

Your name's Abigail, isn't it?

You're in advertising, aren't you?

You work in the city, don't you?

A question tag with falling intonation isn't really a question at all – it is a way of making conversation. It means 'Talk to me! The speaker expects people to agree with him/her.

Beautiful day, isn't it?

It's wonderful weather for swimming, isn't it?

That was a great concert, wasn't it?

You haven't been here before, have you?

Note

We can also use question tags with negative sentences to make a polite request for information or help.

You couldn't lend me your car this evening, could you?

1 Read about Montreal. Then complete the questions below.

MONTREAL

Montreal in Canada is the largest French-speaking city in the world next to Paris. It has a population of 2.8 million of which two thirds have French ancestry. French is the official language, but English is almost as common. There are language laws that require French writing in public places to be twice as large as English.

Montreal is situated on the Saint Lawrence Seaway and is a vital port for ships travelling to the Great Lakes and the Atlantic. It lies below Mount Royal, the ancient volcano after which the city is named. It was "discovered" in 1535 by the French explorer Jacques Cartier and is a wonderful mix of old and new – ancient stone buildings alongside modern glass and steel.

The climate is one of extremes: summers are hot, 27°C, but winter temperatures average only -10°C. Winter lasts four to five months. In order that you don't have to suffer such cold, they have built an underground city called 'La Ville Souterraine'. This is one of Montreal's most amazing sights with nearly 20 miles of walkways below street level. You can shop, have lunch, watch a movie, and enter a hotel without ever going outside!

The city celebrates the arts in a big way. Visitors from all over the world travel to Montreal for its many film and jazz festivals. It's also the gourmet capital of North America. Not only can you find some of the world's finest restaurants (over 5,000), but on nearly every street corner you can buy 'poutine', a delicious dish of French fries served with hot cheese and brown gravy.

All in all Montreal has much to offer. It is one of the most interesting cities in North America.

2 T 11.1 Complete the questions about Montreal.

- 1 A Can you tell me what the population of Montreal is?
B 2.8 million.

B French.
- 4 A I'm not sure exactly where _____.
B On the Saint Lawrence Seaway, below Mount Royal.
- 5 A I haven't a clue who _____.
B The French explorer, Jacques Cartier, in 1535.

- 6 A I wonder what _____ like.
B They are a wonderful mix of ancient and modern.
- 7 A Could you tell me how long _____?
B About four to five months.
- 8 A Do you know why _____?
B So that you can shop and keep warm in winter.
- 9 A I don't know if _____?
B There are lots. People come to them from all over the world.
- 10 A Have you any idea where _____?
B It's sold on nearly every street corner.
