Consonants

In final position /t/ is aspirated and shortens the vowel before it, whilst /d/ is particularly weak and makes only very little noise, but lengthens the vowel before it. However, speakers who tend not to allow /t/ and /d/ to explode in this position should be sure not only to make the difference of vowel length but also to allow the breath to explode out of the mouth. Try these words:

	bet bet	bed bed	hat heart	had hard
	let late	led laid	saint sight	said side
	set set	sed said	brought	broad broad

/d/ and /θ/ may again be difficult to distinguish in this position. Be sure that /d/ is made with the tongue-tip firmly on the alveolar ridge, and that the breath is released with a tiny explosion. Try the words:

	bri:d breed	bri:ð breathe	rard ride	rard writhe
--	-------------	---------------	-----------	-------------

When /t/ and /d/ are followed by any of the other stop consonants, /p, b, k, g/ or by /m/ or /n/ or /l/, the sounds are made a little differently. This is dealt with on pp. 67-73.

Consonants

As with /p/ and /t/, when /k/ occurs between vowels the aspiration may be weaker or even absent, but it may be kept in this position too. On the other hand /g/ is normally voiced in this position (and of course never aspirated), but concentrate mainly on making it gentle and short. Speakers who confuse /b/ and /d/ with /v/ and /ð/ in this position will also tend to make /g/ a friction sound instead of the correct stop sound. They must be sure to put the tongue into firm contact with the palate and let the breath out with a definite, though slight, explosion. Try these words:

	likɪŋ licking	dɪgɪŋ digging	lækɪŋ lacking	lægɪŋ lagging
	wi:kə weaker	i:gə eager	θi:kə thicker	bɪ:gə bigger
	mɑ:kɪt market	ta:gɪt target	æŋkəl ankle	æŋgl angle

In final position /k/ is aspirated and shortens the vowel before it but
