Countries around the world have different capitals and nationalities. Learning about them helps us understand cultures, geography, and people from different parts of the world.

In Arabic , we usually add the letter "ي" (ya) to the name of a country to form its nationality. For example: عراق - عراقي

In English , There are Five possible letters to add (i , n , ian , ish , ese) . There is no fixed rule for these letters.

The most important rule when writing the country, capital, and nationality is that only the first letter must be capital letters.
